English L2 Reading: Getting to the Bottom (ESL & Applied Linguistics Professional Series) By Barbara M. Birch

English L2 Reading, Third Edition offers teachers research-based insights into bottom-up skills in reading English as a second language and a solid foundation on which to build reading instruction. Core linguistic and psycholinguistic concepts are presented within the context of their application to teaching. The goal is to balance or supplement (not replace) top-down approaches and methodologies with effective low-level options for teaching English reading.

The text's pedagogical features— Questions, Study Guide Questions, Discussion Questions, Spotlight on Teaching sections— engage readers of the text in moving easily from linguistic details and psycholinguistic data and theory to practical explanations and suggestions for teaching. Two Appendices provide tables that list the graphemes or the phonemes of English.

Changes in the Third Edition

Editorial Review

"English L2 Reading refocuses attention on the often forgotten, bottom-up skills in reading English as a second language. It strikes a good balance between theory and practice." Paul Abraham, Simmons College, USA "...provides an effective review of key linguistic points and ties them to reading and writing. This text offers a perfect balance between theory and practice, consistently providing concrete illustrations of research on second language literacy." Sarah Dietrich, Salem State University, USA "This is a book that really gets to 'the bottom'. It unpacks what is meant by the term and demonstrates explicitly why bottom up knowledge is important and what its components are. It's a book I'd been seeking for a long while. English L2 Reading provides us with specific information on how to teach L2 learners through showing us how language awareness is critical for teaching L2 English reading." Vanessa Wenzell, California State University Dominguez Hills, USA About the Author

Barbara M. Birch is Professor in the Department of Linguistics at California State University - Fresno, USA.
