Target The Unconscious!: The Modern Psychology of Rhetoric for the Plaintiff's Lawyer By Mark D. Swendsen Sr.

By now you may know that many great lawyers can give hypnotic suggestions to juries, in the course of ordinary conversation. It is undetectable, completely covert, and devastatingly effective. As you hold this book in your hands and read the methods by which hypnotic suggestions may be given to juries, you may notice slight changes in the way you relate to people. Your power to get what you want from people, in trial, in motions, in negotiations, will become amazingly, almost magically potent. Modern psychology has proven that decisions are made in the unconscious, and only later expressed in the conscious mind. For 2400 years, great lawyers have been using techniques of rhetoric that target the unconscious, and mediocre lawyers have been losing to them because of it. In this book, classic techniques of rhetoric are merged with the modern behavior modification of Pavlov and B. F. Skinner, the conversational hypnotic suggestions of Milton Erickson, M.D., NLP (Neurolinguistic Programming), as well as the appeal to the primitive survival instinct of the unconscious. This book shows, step by step, how appeals are made directly to the unconscious, as well as how they have always been made directly to the unconscious by great lawyers-- and how you can use this technology to achieve the judgments and settlements you have always dreamed of. --Mark D. Swendsen, Sr. MARK D. SWENDSEN, SR. has been a California lawyer for four decades, and is a former hostage negotiator. Mark Swendsen is the recipient of the Human Life Award for saving the life of a child through litigation (Derrick Poole v. Santa Clara County Kaiser Hospital, et al., Santa Clara County, CA, Superior Court No. 604575) and achieved a landmark $10.5 million dollar settlement in a molestation case (Does v. Roes, San Francisco CA Superior Court No. CGC-12-525623). He has taught many law firms the techniques set forth in this book, including the Inner Circle of Advocates. Plaintiff trial lawyers have hundreds of books, video's and seminars to choose from in their effort to become better advocates, but this book is an encyclopedia of winning techniques. Here, in one volume, you will find the background, explanation and practical application of techniques that target your message to the unconscious mind. This is a book every trial lawyer should own. - -Paul N. Luvera PAUL N. LUVERA practiced plaintiff's trial work for over fifty years. He is the only lawyer from Washington State to be inducted into the National Trial Lawyers Hall of Fame. For twenty years he was an invited lecturer at the Spence Trial College.
