Editorial Review

Review

I am sure the word 'timely' will be used quite often to describe Heher's book-and it is surely that. -- Chrys McVey, O.P.

Read this book for its honesty and its wisdom, then buy a copy for everyone you know. -- Ann Patchett, author of Bel Canto

This is the most articulate, charming, and persuasive book I have ever read on the priesthood. -- Gerald O'Collins, S.J., Professor of Theology at the Gregorian University, Rome

About the Author

Heher is a Roman Catholic priest who has served ten years as pastor of St. Irenaeus Church in Cypress, California. He is currently the vicar general and moderator of the Curia for the Diocese of Orange, California.

Ricky Dotson:

Nowadays reading books be a little more than want or need but also turn into a life style. This reading behavior give you lot of advantages. Advantages you got of course the knowledge even the information inside the book in which improve your knowledge and information. The info you get based on what kind of publication you read, if you want drive more knowledge just go with education books but if you want truly feel happy read one using theme for entertaining for example comic or novel. Often the The Lost Art of Walking on Water: Reimagining the Priesthood is kind of guide which is giving the reader unstable experience.

Kristy Moore:

Information is provisions for individuals to get better life, information currently can get by anyone from everywhere. The information can be a know-how or any news even an issue. What people must be consider whenever those information which is from the former life are hard to be find than now is taking seriously which one is acceptable to believe or which one the particular resource are convinced. If you get the unstable resource then you buy it as your main information there will be huge disadvantage for you. All of those possibilities will not happen within you if you take The Lost Art of Walking on Water: Reimagining the Priesthood as the daily resource information.
